The following are the results for the 42nd Annual Northglenn Judo Championship held April 17, 2010, at Legacy High School, Broomfield, Colorado. 225 athletes from 13 states and 4 countries competed in the event. For the 7th year in a row, the event was sanctioned by USA Judo as an E-level, national, event. Medal winners in the adult elite divisions earned points toward national ranking. In addition, the winner of each Olympic weight division received a $100 cash prize and the runners-up received a $50 cash prize. The winners and runners-up in the Open (no weight restrictions) divisions received bonus cash prizes.

Highlights:

Northglenn's Kenny Hashimoto (Thornton, Colo.), a former #1 ranked player in the 66kg division, went 3-0 to win the division. Although Hashimoto just returned to competition in August after sustaining what many thought would be a career-ending injury before the 2008 U.S. Olympic Team Trials for Judo, Hashimoto has yet to be defeated by a U.S. player in the division.

Hashimoto's brother Joseph won the 73kg division on the adjacent mat, also going 3-0 to secure the championship. In the final, he defeated teammate Bobby Yamashita in a close match. Yamashita competed while on leave from his duty station in the U.S. Navy.

Ryan Reser, OTC, Colorado Springs, a 2008 Olympic Team member at 73kg (161 lbs.), entered the Open division (no weight restrictions) with a weight disadvantage of 60 lbs. He defeated Ajax Tadehara, Pocatello, Idaho, who weighed in at 100 kg (220 lbs.), but then lost to Landry Ryan of Dallas, Texas who earlier in the day won the 100kg (220 lbs.) division. Landry went on to defeat Tadehara and Bobby Yamashita, Northglenn, to secure the Open championship.
